

|  |   |   |
|--|---|---|
| RSSTRV VSEI Resource Centre Spin a Story Instructions Make 4 5 students sit in a group. Give the beginning of one story to each group. Students should complete the story in their own words.   | RSSTRV VSEI Resource Centre The king and the queen of Maryland were worried. Their daughter, Princess Goldie just refused to smile or laugh. Goldie who was now ten years old had never laughed or smiled from the day she was born. The king, the queen and the others in the palace had been trying hard to make her do so. But no one was successful. | RSSTRV VSEI Resource Centre Once upon a time, there was a fish called Dandy; Dandy loved to dress up and show off. “I am the king of all the fish in the sea!” it said. The big fish laughed at him. All the little fish swam away silently. They were afraid to say anything.   |
| RSSTRV VSEI Resource Centre One day, Lord Shiva told Ganesha, “My son, I feel very sleepy. I am going inside to sleep. Do not let anyone in”.“I will not let anyone come in, father!” said Ganesha, nodding his elephant head. Lord Shiva went inside and Ganesha stood guard at the door.Lord Shiva was fast asleep. Then, a sage named Parashurama came to see Lord Shiva.  | RSSTRV VSEI Resource Centre Kittu was a clever little ducking. I t lived with its grandma in a pond. Grandma duck was very old. So Kittu used to go out to find food for the two of them.One day when Kittu was searching for food, a fox suddenly pounced on it.   | RSSTRV VSEI Resource Centre Croaky the crow was very greedy. Whenever it saw anyone holding food in their hands, Croaky would instantly swoop down and snatch it away. Croaky had a friend named Beaky crow. One day Beaky said to Croaky, “Hey, you know, though we need food to eat, it's a bad habit to snatch food from others!” |
| RSSTRV VSEI Resource Centre One evening, when Montu monkey was enjoying a walk in the forest, it saw Chinti Ant. Chinti was dragging along a grain of rice with difficulty, “Hey ant”, said Montu, laughing, “Why are you taking such a long time to carry one small grain along the road?” “I am Chinti, the ant,” replied the ant. “I am tiny, and this grain is a bit heavy for me. That is why I am talking such a long time to carry it along the road. Will you help me?” | RSSTRV VSEI Resource Centre One day a little bird called Chinnu was sitting on the branch of a tree. I t saw an open window of a house and was eager to see what was inside.   | RSSTRV VSEI Resource Centre There was a once a little pig, who learnt to play the flute. He practiced every day instead of going out to play. All his brothers and sisters teased him.“Ha! Ha!! Ha!!! Who wants to listen to a little pig playing the flute?” they would laugh.   |